

Code of Conduct Besani srl in conformity with OEKO-TEX® STeP certification

OUR MISSION

We share with our partners and clients the common goal of and commitment to high social, ethical and environmental standards.

We declare our strict adherence to the International Bill of Human Rights, the core ILO labour standards and environmental protection.

Our company henceforth commits to the following:

Corporate governance

We understand corporate governance as the legal and factual framework in the management and monitoring of our business for the benefit of all of our relevant stakeholders.

We, therefore, subscribe to business practices governed by integrity, impartiality, honesty, fair dealing, reliability, confidentiality and full compliance with all legal requirements.

We are careful with regards to gifts and invitations, they must be reasonable in nature and value, they must be offered and accepted with absolute transparency and not during negotiations or calls for tenders.

Responsible business conduct

We understand that economic misconduct can lead to considerable damage. We therefore apply responsible business conduct to all our activities.

We shall actively work against all forms of corruption, strive for competition on equal terms and promote social and environmental responsibility in our value chain. To this effect, we use our leverage so that this Code of Conduct influences our value chain. We expect the same standards from our clients and partners that we adhere to.

Human Rights

Human rights are universal and apply to every individual. They state that all humans, without distinction of any kind, are born free and equal in dignity and rights. Specifically, we respect the right of freedom of thought, expression and association.

Labour

Employees are at the core of the company and the companies' most important asset. Each employee shall be given opportunities for professional and personal development based on their abilities, for the benefit of both the company and the individual.

We are a company with full control of health and safety with an equal workplace that is free from any kind of discrimination, harassment or abuse. We are a place of employment where all people of different ethnic backgrounds, different genders, ages and professions have the same opportunities to develop. We create a safe working environment, where the right to favorable conditions at work, as well as the right to rest and limitation of working hours are strictly adhered to.

To that effect, we respect the core ILO labour standards. The recognition of the right to join unions, the right to collective bargaining, the importance of living wages, as well as gender-equality in wages for work of equal value, are, among many others, important standards to adhere to. We are, moreover, strictly against child labour, forced labour and excessive overtime.

Environment

Climate change is global, so every single contribution worldwide counts.

We consider it our duty, to create an atmosphere in all our fields of activity to facilitate the development and use of environmentally friendly technologies and products. Furthermore, we take measures regarding the efficient use of resources and progressing towards green chemistry. In respect of our environmental footprint, we dispose of waste responsibly and support internationally agreed upon approaches to combat environmental challenges.

Society

We, as a business, understand that we play an important role in society. Not only are we aware of our positive externalities, like creating jobs and therefore helping to build communities – we are also aware of our negative externalities. Consequently, we do everything possible to maximize the positive and to minimize the negative externalities.
